

Sandra Brummitt

Vice President, Chief Tax and Procurement Officer
NiSource

Ms. Brummitt serves as Chief Tax & Procurement Officer at NiSource, with responsibility for Tax, Supply Chain & Procurement, and Real Estate Services.

Sandra is a senior finance executive with over 20 years of experience leading organizations through transformations in Tax, Accounting, M&A Integration, Investor Relations, Procurement and Real Estate. Prior to joining NiSource, Sandra was Senior Director, Global Tax Reporting at Walmart and led global tax accounting and forecasting. Sandra also spent over 15 years at Exelon, a Fortune 100 power & utility company, with her last role as VP Tax for Exelon's Utilities.

Sandra currently serves as Treasurer for the Center for Healthy Families, Board member for Gladden Community House and on the Advisory Board for the African American Leadership Academy. Sandra is a member of the Taxation Committees for the Edison Electric Institute, American Gas Association and U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Sandra is also a lifetime member of the National Association of Black Accountants (NABA).

Sandra holds a master's degree in business administration from the Smith School at the University of Maryland, College Park, and a bachelor's degree in business economics with an accounting emphasis from the University of California, Santa Barbara.